DEDICATION

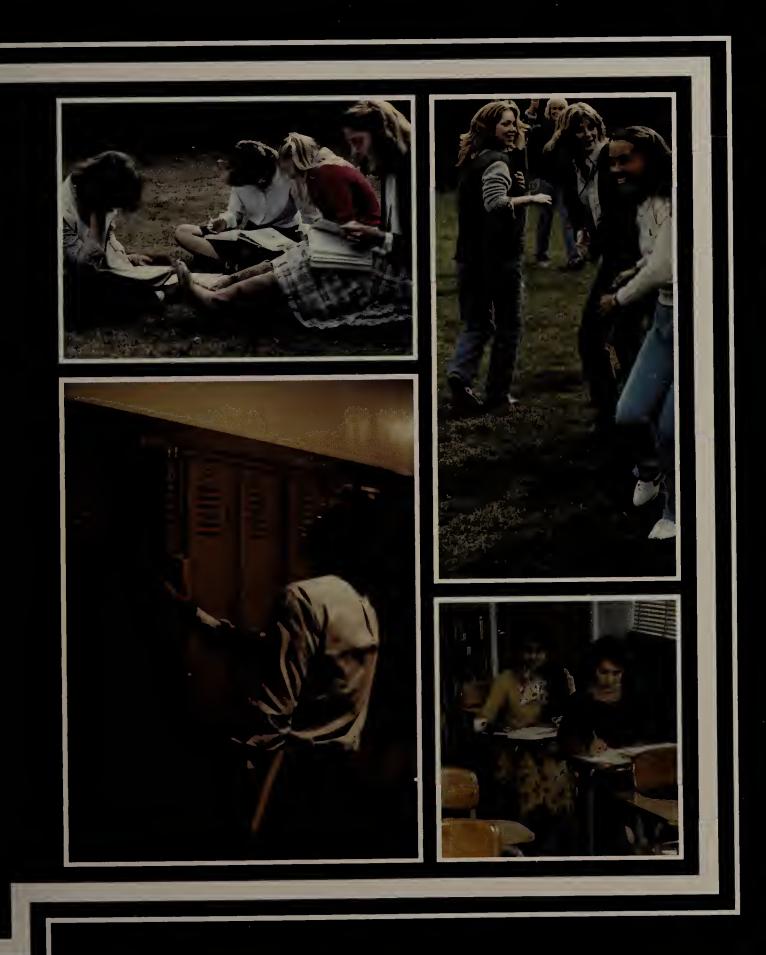

To show our gratitude for the devotion which Mrs. Bloom has given to our class, the Seniors dedicate this 1981 yearbook to her. We greatly appreciate her time and effort on our behalf. Thank you, Mrs. Bloom, for helping us through our high school years.

THELMA BLOOM

Seems like I've been here before

I can't remember when

And I got this funny feeling that we'll all be together again

All my roads have bends

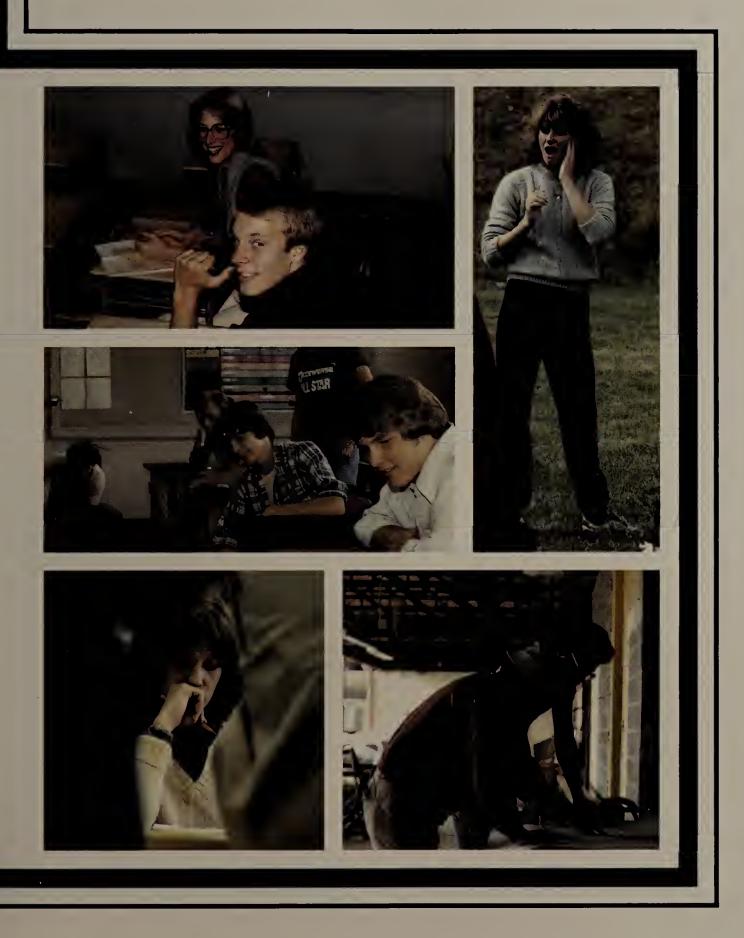

There's no clear-cut beginnings

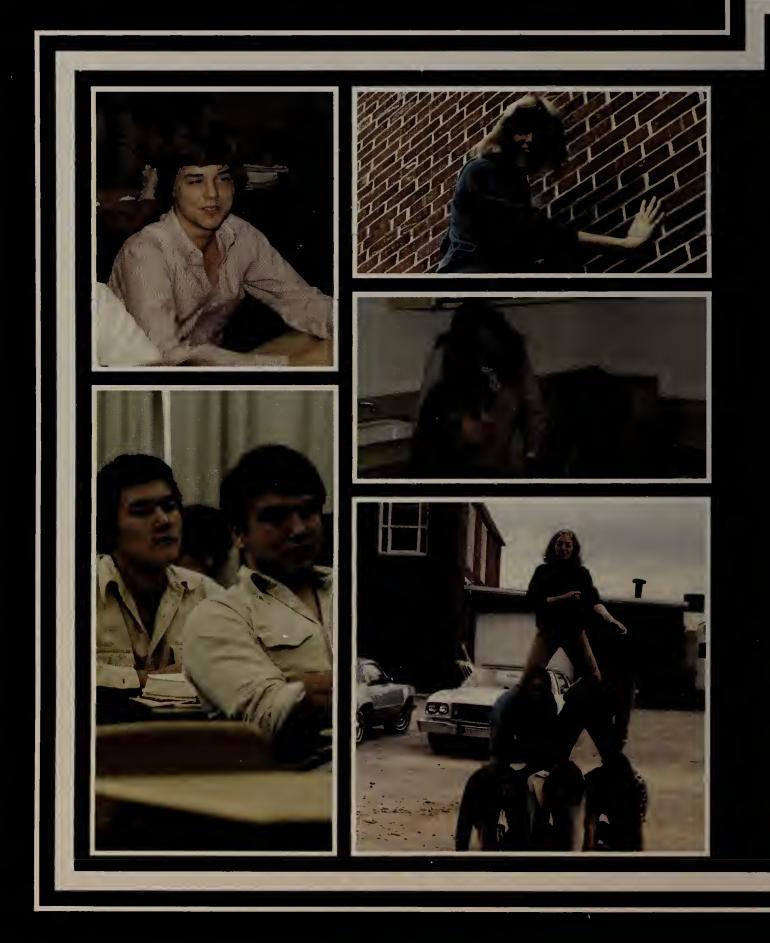

And so far no dead ends

All my life's a circle

The moon rolls through the night time

Till the daybreak comes around

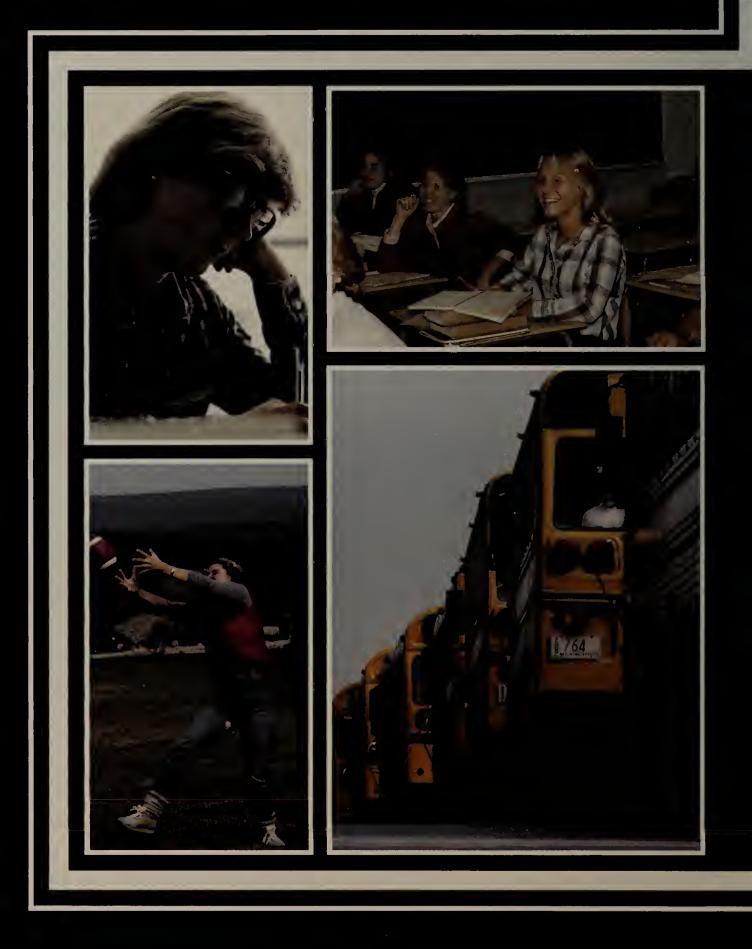

All my life's a circle

The seasons spinning round

The years keep rolling by

SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE

SUPERINTENDENT'S MESSAGE TO THE CLASS OF 1981

As this message goes to press, our country is settling down after the return of the hostages from Iran and after President Reagan's initial days in office. The contradictions about what to do in the hostage situation and what to do about inflation exemplify the complexity that so many of us find confounding in the 1980's.

As you graduate, are you, too, to be confounded, to be immobilized by the lack of sure, time-tested answers? I hope not. While you may look with sophisticated disdain at the work ethic of the old Horatio Alger stories (now collector's items!), most of you do indeed realize that, while there are no guarantees in life, hard work and a positive attitude do correlate highly with success... success in the sense of challenge, self-fulfillment, material rewards, and deserved leisure. I suspect that many of you have noted the attitude displayed by the recent Vietnamese people, who as outsiders and as refugees from severe hardships, appreciate our country and the openness of its society so much more than those of us who take it for granted. Letters and diary accounts written by some Vietnamese students and reprinted in the Landmark have brought this appreciation home to me.

So, while "nobody promised you a rose garden," your hard work will make it ever so much more likely. Our best wishes go with you... for the success and happiness that follow from doing something worthwhile.

ADMINISTRATION

Dear Members of the Class of 1981

One of the real advantages of being Principal is that I get the opportunity to share with you some of my thoughts and feelings as part of your yearbook. Every senior class brings with it special memories and friendships and a personality all its own. The Class of 1981 has proven its mettle as a class and as individuals through what have been a series of four rather turbulent years for education in general and Wachusett specifically. You have witnessed a successful campaign for a much needed and long overdue building program; have gone through a most uncomfortable labor dispute; willingly accepted the discomforts and major inconveniences of actual construction; and, in your senior year, are seeing your school face the onslaught of Proposition 2½. Through it all you have remained a friendly, cooperative and alive class. For three years your efforts in building a float for the annual Homecoming Parade produced only mediocre results but in the fall of your senior year you put it all together and emerged as #1. It is this willingness to roll with the punches, remaining spirited and together through several crises, and the ability to put it all together when it counts that will be my brightest memory of the Class of 1981.

Now as you leave Wachusett to pursue your individual dreams, I wish you well and hope that all of your dreams come true. I would ask each of you individually to remember the many people here who helped you reach this point in your lives — your parents, friends, teachers and others who, sometimes at great sacrifice to themselves, have helped you reach where you are today. It is rapidly becoming your turn to assist others as you have been helped!

If ever I — or Wachusett — can be of service please don't hesitate to call.

Good Luck and God Bless!

Keep in touch . . .

Sincerely,

Harold M. Lane, Jr.

THAT MAN IS A SUCCESS who has lived well, laughed often and loved much; who has gained the respect of intelligent men and the love of children; who has filled his niche and accomplished his task; who leaves the world better than he found it, whether by an improved poppy, a perfect poem or a rescued soul; who never lacked appreciation of earth's beauty or failed to express it; who looked for the best in others and gave the best he had.

TIM OLIVER

With the advent of fall come thoughts of Tim Oliver The rustle of the leaves and the brisk winds seem to bring vivid pictures of him to my mind.

And this makes me happy. I remember Tim's special smile and his love of life as well as the good times that were shared with him.

Yet, whatever time of year it may be, Tim will often be part of my thoughts.

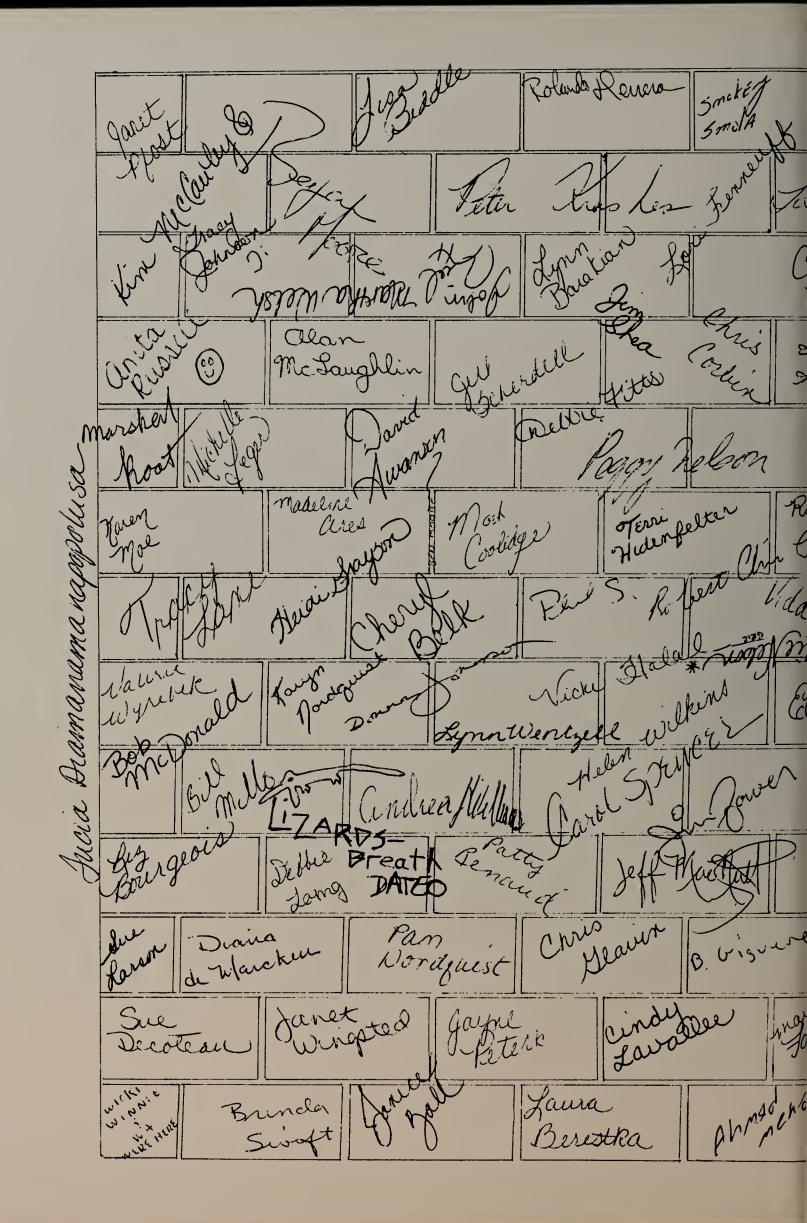

All of us in the class of 1981 and everyone else that knew Tim will always cherish their memories of him.

We all have a special place in our hearts to store something that he gave us — whether it be a memory or a little bit of love.

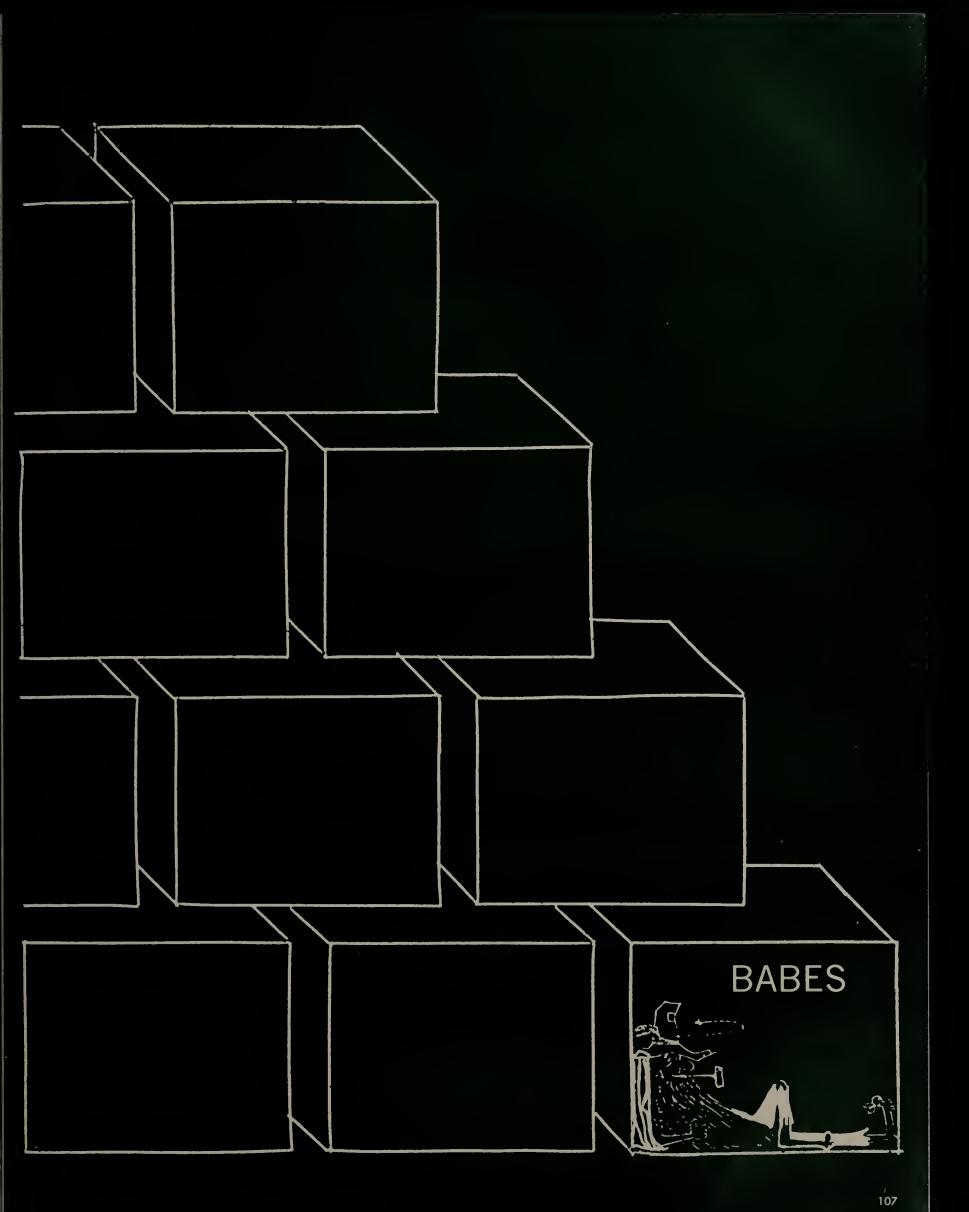

For Tim is still special, and we'll always remember him with love.

Markus Saikku is a foreign exchange student living with the Aijala family in Paxton. He comes from Helsinki, Firland, where he lives near the ocean.

Wachusett is quite a change from schools in Finland. There, the class schedules are different every day, and their order is changed every two weeks. A typical student would take about 15 classes per year. Even so, he says there's more diversity at Wachusett the subjects are more specific, and he takes classes here that aren't offered at home.

Markus has two years of school left when he returns to Finland. After that, he hopes to study engine ing or architecture.

Markus says be shall a good time here, and we wish him good luck wherever he goes.

NOVEMBER 30th, 1979

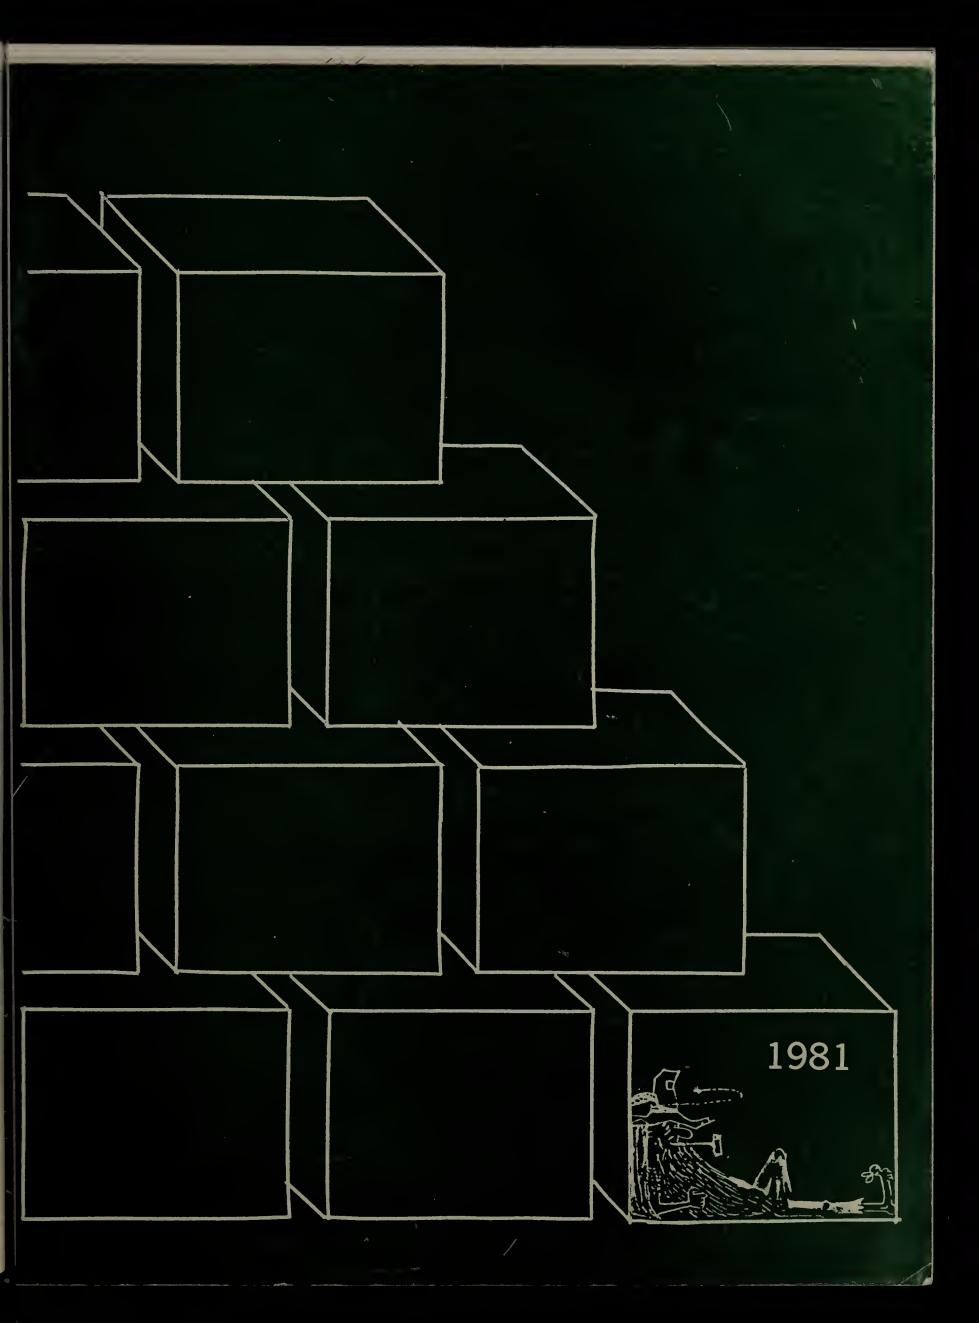

The moon,
melonish cream,
stood out tonight and showed
the world,
how brave it was before the stars
yet running from sister sun.
Hurled from it,
a glowing ring rainbow like
a swirl-flavored lifesaver, melting into the cool smoothness of
its creator.
All convincing,
a tip of the hat
to you Mr. Moon.

GRADUATION

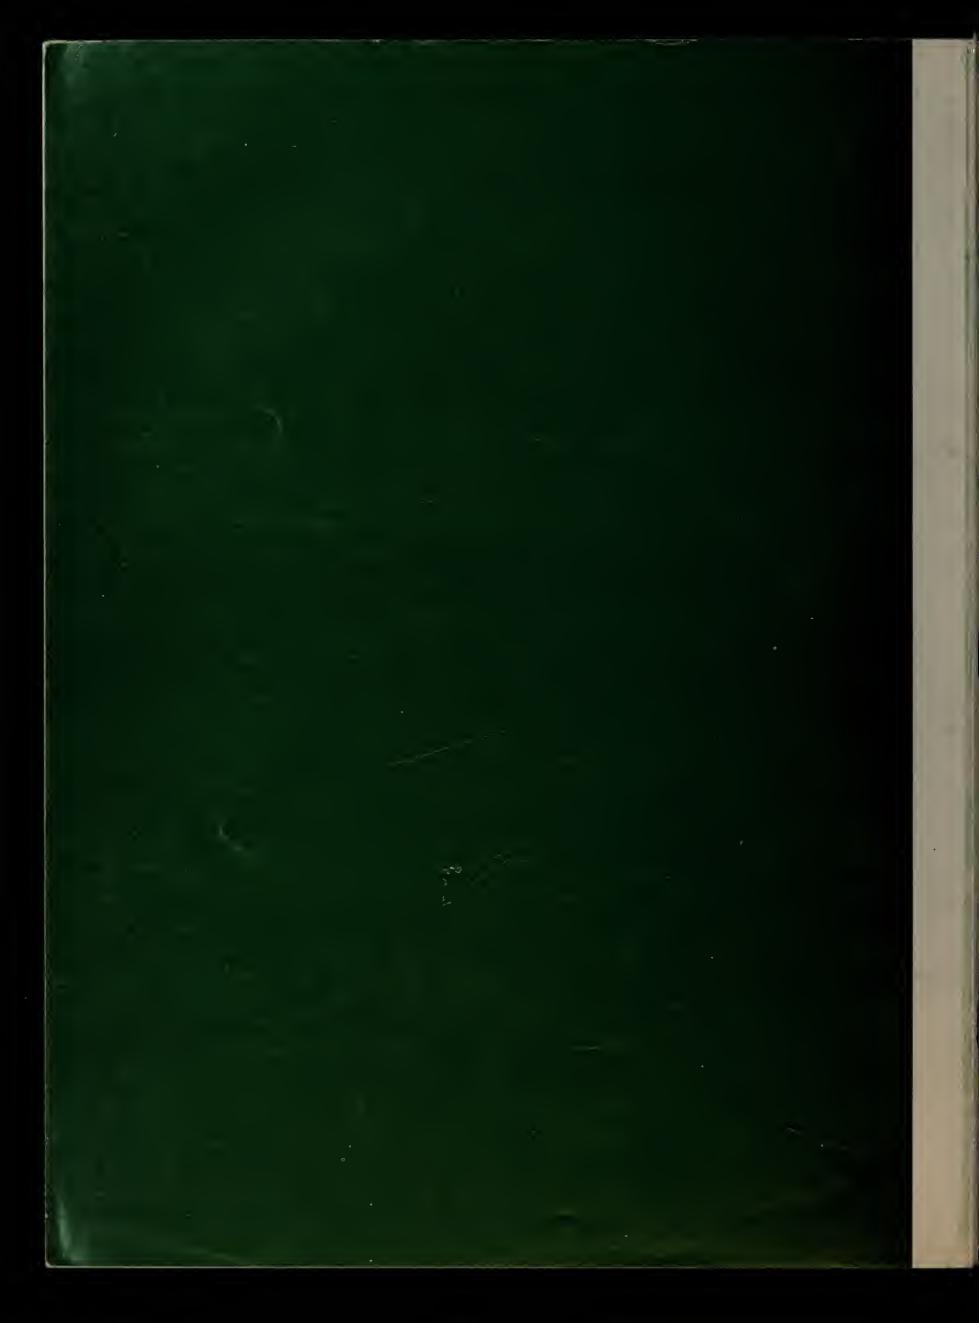

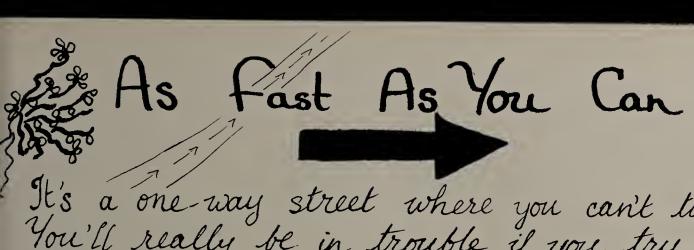

It's a one-way street where you can't turn back; You'll really be in trouble if you try to. Run over, trampled, lost in the blink of an eye—
Who'll take such a crazy risk?

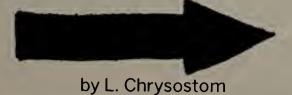

The traffic's really heavy, everybody's going fast; if you slow down now it's all over. But I just came through a real neat place on this little one-way street; I'd like to take a closer look before it's gone for good....

WHAT I DID OYER THE SUMMER

Too late. It's behind me now, the chance is lost. Don't the others want to stop? Yes, but none will be first.

That's life. Through my cracked mirror I see what's behind me Not quite as it really was, but it's the best I can do on a one-way street

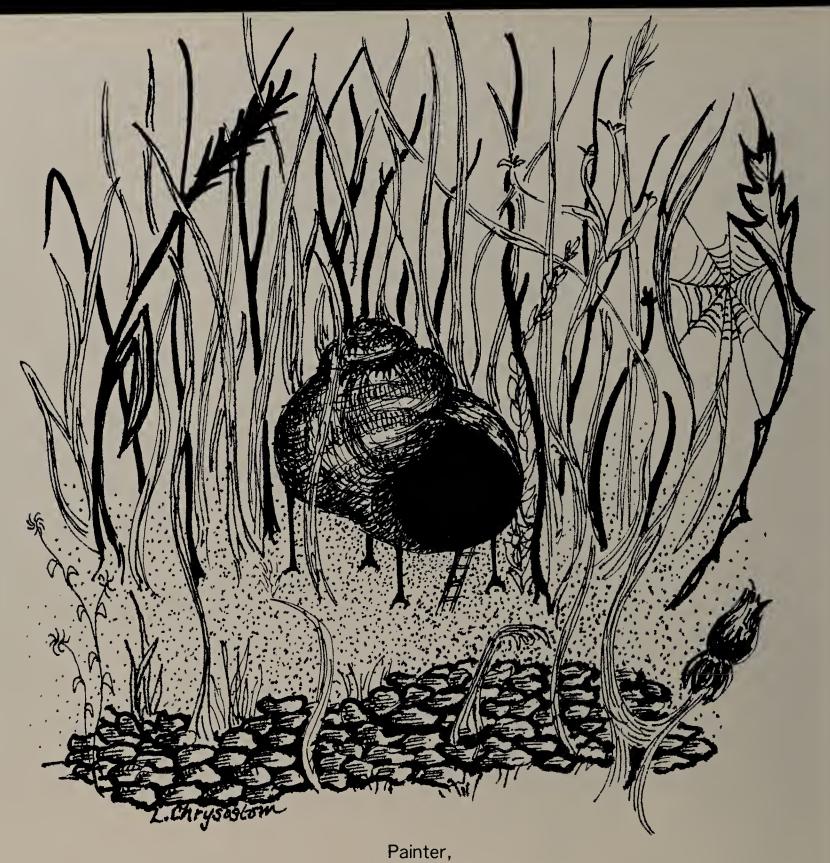

by Andrew Friedman

You are trying so hard to find the answer, any answer, So long as it's the truth. Are you naive? Or is it you just don't have a floor or walls of any kind? You are the living room furniture, out in the middle of a field, trying to find out where to hang all of the pictures you've found Lucy R. McNair

by L. Richardson

Know, then, that you are an infinite soul trapped within a finite being. You have no boundaries except yourself.
